About Connecting with Dance

Designed for people with Parkinson's, Connecting with Dance begins with seated exercises and progresses to both standing supported and free standing travelling movements. Creative exercises throughout the hour long class will be adapted to suit each individual's abilities. Inspiring music by Nenad Duplancic will enhance the focus on concepts including: posture and breathing, core flexibility and support, body awareness and extensions, patterning and coordination, sustained and dynamic balance, partnering/group work and walking variations designed to improve spatial awareness, rhythm, gait and confidence.

About Maria Shepertycki

Maria Shepertycki began her dance training in Ottawa at a young age, successfully completing her Elementary Level RAD ballet exam. From 1979 until 1994 she performed internationally as a soloist with both the Dnipro Ukrainian Dance Ensemble and the Svitanok Ukrainian Dance Ensemble, and since that time has taught ballet, jazz, folk, character, Ukrainian dance and fitness classes to children and adults in the Ottawa area. Maria is currently volunteering her efforts as Co-Director of the Ottawa School of Ukrainian Dance and continues to choreograph, teach and present a variety of works with OSUD's students. Maria combined her academic studies in the School of Human Kinetics and the Dept. of Social Sciences, graduating from the University of Ottawa with a B.Soc.Sc. Hons. Sociology. Since 2007, Maria has worked as a Rehabilitation Assistant for a select number of Physiotherapy practices in the Ottawa area and, under the direction of a supervising Physiotherapist, has provided comprehensive client-centered community and clinic-base care with a focus on neurological, cardiorespiratory, orthopedic and chronic pain rehabilitation. Maria is a certified Nordic Walking instructor. Since 2012, Maria has received training and provided treatment activities specifically for people with Parkinson's under the direction of LSVT Big! and PWR! Clinicians. Since 2015, Maria has completed both introductory and advanced dance teacher training workshops in New York and Toronto offered by Dance for PD® an internationally recognized collaboration between the Mark Morris Dance Group and the Brooklyn Parkinson Group. Maria is thrilled to combine her skilled rehabilitative movement knowledge with her choreographic and teaching experience to share her love of dance in The School of Dance programme for people with Parkinson's.
